

Full Stack Developer (full-time) @Declaree Rotterdam HQ

FINTECH STARTUP - PHP/SYMFONY DEVELOPER

Declaree already digitises over 300.000 expenses a month, making the life of more than 180.000 business travellers a lot easier. Now its time to step it up with integrating payment, travel, robotics, fraud detection and much more.

To help with further improving our PHP/Symfony based rockstar application (also servicing our native apps), we are looking for a full-time developer with an entrepreneurial mind-set.

Your tasks

Scale our development team, upgrade our techniques and code base and work on innovative features, such as OCR, payment and travel integration or analytics. This includes:

- take part in daily standups and weekly retrospects
- work together on new features, squeezing bugs in between
- keep our code base healthy by adopting new techniques and refactoring old stuff
- support our onboarding team with solving technical requests
- support our marketing team with updates to our website and onboarding flow

You should

- have strong PHP/HTML/CSS skills, preferably worked with Symfony before
- have good English verbal communication skills
- have worked with some of; Angular/Ember/Vue, Docker (swarm)/Kubernetes, SASS/SCSS, SOAP, Rest/JSON, Python, CI/CD, database replication, fileclusters, Apache/Nginx/Haproxy or other new technologies.
- have excellent problem-solving skills and a service-oriented mindset
- have a healthy obsession with details
- be able to work independently

Whats a plus?

- online portfolio (GitHub account or alike) of software you wrote
- experience in a SaaS software context
- experience with Scrum, agile development

What we offer

- responsibility and enough space to make your own decisions
- the chance to be part of the development of an important market
- a flexible and international work environment
- the opportunity to be part of a fast growing company that works with well-known multinationals
- an open office culture with full transparency
- an innovative and inspiring workplace that is home to many of Rotterdam's startups
- free lunch every day, Friday drinks, quarterly team events and yearly skiing trips.
